L haus offering plan effective

March 02, 2010 10:30AM

Long Island City development L haus condominium's plan has been deemed effective, and the developers of the condominium at 11-02 49th Avenue, have unveiled a set of incentives for two-bedroom buyers. Condo shoppers who snap up a two-bedroom unit at the Stahl Organization's building by March 31 will receive $10,000 to put toward closing costs plus a free two months of common charges, while buyer's agents will get a 5 percent commission. The first six people to buy those units, meanwhile, will also get a free cabana. The 122-unit building offers one-, two- and three-bedroom units starting at $460,000. Prudential Douglas Elliman is exclusively marketing the property. TRD
